

Request for Proposals for Eurosense 2020

The European Sensory Science Society is soliciting proposals for Eurosense 2020 - the 9th European Conference on Sensory and Consumer Research.

The European Sensory Science Society (E3S) is a nonprofit organisation constituted in Florence (Italy) on the 12th of May 2011, and includes today thirteen partners, the national sensory societies from Austria, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Ireland, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, The Netherlands and United Kingdom. The goal of the association, concerning general interest and social utility, is to gather, within a single organization, the European Sensory Science Society (E3S), all national organisations that deal with sensory science and operate in European countries. Its Mission is to facilitate the growth of Sensory Science, promote co-operation, shared goals, integration of activities and knowledge, information exchange amongst national sensory science organisations in Europe, establish, maintain and enhance the professional status of sensory scientists and develop and disseminate research, innovation and education in sensory science. Successful Eurosense conferences are an extremely important element of our mission.

E3S and Elsevier jointly organize the conference series to serve the needs of the sensory community. By submitting a proposal for Eurosense 2020, you are agreeing to operate in respect of the E3S-Elsevier agreement.

If you would like to be considered to host the meeting please complete the details below in full by April 28th 2017, and submit to the chair of E3S Margrethe Hersleth – margrethe.hersleth@nofima.no. Please use Arial font size 11. The proposal should be no more than 5 pages in length including this front page.

Applicants will then be invited to make a 10 minute presentation at the E3S AGM in Paris on May 9th 2017.
