

Project Manager for Sensory and Consumer Research (m/f)

Today, Eurofins SAM is a leading international sensory and consumer research specialist. We have our own offices in Hamburg, Lausanne, Munich, Paris, Milan, Aix-en-Provence, Shanghai, Turin, Rennes, Casablanca, Zurich and Barcelona, and a global network of 120 partners in more than 60 countries worldwide. We offer to our clients with descriptive, qualitative and quantitative market research approaches the entire methodological span of sensory analysis and consumer research.

At our headquarters in Barcelona we are looking for a competent and committed team member helping to drive forward the group's growth.

You will be our new team member, if you are pro-active person and fulfil the following roles with pleasure and enthusiasm:

- To have a proper organization and execution of projects – develop contact client, writing proposals, creating test-designs, preparation of quotations, coordinating the fieldwork, writing reports
- Working in a close relationship with the rest of the team

We expect you to have a university degree with proved experience and knowledge on sensory and consumer studies (qualitative and quantitative) of at least 5 years, performed in Spain. Solid knowledge on statistical analysis. Very good skills in communication, informatics and web tools. Excellent communication skills written and speaking in Spanish and English are essential. As well availability to eventually travel, mostly in Spain.

You will join full-time a young team attaining excellent results, located in the heart of Barcelona and working in a fascinating field. We offer a six-month contract and remuneration according to profile.

If you are interested and available to start as soon as possible, then please contact Patricia Silva by e-mail or send your CV (with photo) to:

Eurofins SAM Sensory & Marketing Spain

Dr. Patricia Silva

patricia.silva@eurofins-sam.com

C. Ausiàs March, 148-150

08013 Barcelona

www.eurofins-sam.com